ROCHESTER, NY, April 13, 2020 – Vuzix® Corporation (NASDAQ: VUZI), ("Vuzix" or, the "Company"), a leading supplier of Smart Glasses and Augmented Reality (AR) technology and products, announced today that the Vuzix M400 Smart Glasses are now supported by Help Lightning, a merged reality software platform for remote workers.

Help Lightning is a remote collaboration solution that uses merged reality to provide virtual interactive support and with over 50,000 users in 88 countries, Help Lightning's patented technologies and processes make it a global leader in the space. An expert using an iOS or Android device or web browser can use this solution to provide "hands-on" assistance to a remote technician wearing the Vuzix M400 Smart Glasses. The combined solution eliminates the frustrations and inadequacies of a phone or simple video chat, as well as dramatically reduces the need to drive or fly to interact in person. "Existing and new customer activity increased our overall usage by 417% in March alone due to the shelter in place orders and travel bans," said Help Lightning CEO Gary York. "We're excited to be able to offer the Vuzix M400 Smart Glasses, a truly hands-free smart glasses solution to our customer base."
