

Vuzix Hosts Live Webinars to Demonstrate the Business Continuity and Remote Support Functionality of its Smart Glasses

Highlights smart glasses solutions to address virus-related travel restrictions and overall field service 4.0

Demonstrates thermal camera connectivity for worksite inspections and on-the-fly human temperature measurements with the Librestream Onsight Cube

ROCHESTER, NY, March 12, 2020 – Vuzix® Corporation (NASDAQ: VUZI), ("Vuzix" or, the "Company"), a leading supplier of Smart Glasses and Augmented Reality (AR) technology and products, today announced that it will host a series of live webinars on Zoom today and tomorrow to demonstrate the business continuity and remote support functionality of its M400 Smart Glasses.

Many businesses and educational institutions today are being impacted by travel restrictions and office or school closings. Vuzix offers a line of top-rated Smart Glasses for hands-free video conferencing with connector applications to services such as Zoom and Skype for Business, as well as more advanced enterprise remote support applications including Librestream Onsight, LiveOn, Ubimax Frontline, and Vuzix Remote Assist (VRA). With industry-leading Vuzix Smart Glasses, enterprise workers can be remotely monitored and assisted by experts to perform maintenance, inspection, installation, and training without the need for unnecessary travel. The IP67-rated Vuzix M400 Smart Glasses support numerous universal mounting options that make them easy to use and comfortable to wear in most any setting, including in the warehouse, on the shop floor, on the manufacturing line or outdoors.

Each webinar will last 30 minutes and provides the same commentary and product demonstrations. The webinar details are as follows:
